

POC Demo Review — Meeting with Faisal

Wednesday, June 3, 2026 · 4:00 PM | Owner: Kurt | Goal: agree on next build steps

Headline: The POC is built and live. Faisal can run his own JoVE deals through it himself. Both core features are in the demo — the AI Stage Classifier and the Sales Brain coach. Today is about getting his hands on it and agreeing what we build next.

What I want to walk out with: a shared, prioritized list of the next 3–4 build steps, who owns each, and a rough timeline — plus Faisal's commitment to test it against real JoVE deals before our next sync.

1. QUICK FRAMING (2 MIN)

- Where we landed: a working, testable POC — not slides, a live product he can poke at.
- Reminder of the wedge: deduce deal stage automatically from a rep's meeting notes, mapped to JoVE's real Salesforce stages. Reps stop guessing the stage; the pipeline stays clean on its own.

2. LIVE WALKTHROUGH — BOTH FEATURES (12 MIN)

AI Stage Classifier WEDGE

- Paste in real meeting notes → it returns the deal stage in JoVE's vocabulary.
- Show it explains why — which cues in the notes drove the call.
- Show it maps to JoVE's actual stages and structured fields, not generic ones.

Sales Brain coach

- Given the deal context, it suggests the next best step for the rep.
- Frames it as a peer coach, not a report — guidance a rep would actually use.
- Show how it builds on the stage call from feature one.

Then hand him the keyboard: have Faisal run one of his own JoVE deals through it live. His reaction to a real deal is the most important signal of the meeting.

3. WHAT TO LISTEN FOR WHILE HE TESTS (ONGOING)

- Does the stage call match what he'd say himself? Where does it disagree, and is the disagreement defensible?
- Does the JoVE-specific vocabulary feel right, or generic?
- Does the coaching advice feel useful or obvious? What would make a rep trust it?
- What's the first thing he tries to do that the demo can't yet handle?

4. DECISIONS TO MAKE TOGETHER — NEXT BUILD STEPS (10 MIN)

Frame as: "Here's what I think comes next — help me rank it." Candidate next steps to put in front of him:

- Accuracy pass: tune the classifier against a batch of real JoVE deals so we can quote a hit rate.
- Connect to live data: pull notes straight from Salesforce instead of paste-in.
- Write-back: let it update the stage field in Salesforce (with rep approval) — closes the loop.
- Sales Brain depth: richer next-step logic, or keep it light for v1?
- Pilot scope: how many JoVE reps, which segment, for the first real test.

For each: is it in the next build or later? Who owns it? What does Faisal need to unblock it (data access, JoVE buy-in)?

5. OPEN QUESTIONS FOR FAISAL

- What would make this undeniable to JoVE leadership — accuracy number, time saved, cleaner forecast?
- Can he get us a set of real, labeled deals to measure accuracy against?
- Any blockers to running a small pilot with live JoVE reps?

6. CLOSE — CONFIRM AND ASSIGN (3 MIN)

- Read back the agreed next 3–4 steps and owners.
- Set the date for the next sync and what we'll show then.
- Confirm Faisal will test against real deals before then.
